DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is responsive to communications filed 20 December 2004.
2. Per applicant's request, amended claim 43 has been entered. Claims 24-46 are pending.
3. Claims 24-46 have been examined.

Terminal Disclaimer

4. The terminal disclaimer filed on 20 December 2004 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of U.S. Patent 6,775,829 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

5. In light of the applicant's amendments, the rejection of claim 43 under 35 USC § 112, 2nd paragraph, has been withdrawn.

Double Patenting

6. In light of the terminal disclaimer filed 20 December 2004, the rejection of claims 24-46 under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting has been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 24-46 (renumbered as 1-23) are allowed.
8. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

As per independent claims 24, 29, 34, 39 and 43, the closest found prior art of record, specifically U.S. Patent No. 5,963,743, 5,995,757 and 5,991,543 to Amberg et al. and U.S. Patent 5,894,571 to O'Conner, fail to disclose or reasonably suggest a method of building a custom software configuration by comparing at least one baseline configuration with a plurality of requests received for desired software configurations, whereby a set of changes is generated based on the comparison, and the variations are used in combination with the baseline configuration to generate a desired configuration.

Amberg et al. teach of software installation for build-to-order systems based upon comparative component characteristics, but fails to focus on building custom software configuration based upon the aforementioned method of building custom configurations based upon the combination of determined variations in user requests which differentiate desired software options, and baseline configurations.

O'Conner teaches of configuring software in build-to-order systems wherein user selected hardware and software is burned to a CD-ROM during the manufacturing process wherein the CD-ROM is used as a permanent back-up copy of the software initially installed on the system. However, the reference fails to address a method of building custom software based upon differentiated user requests and baseline configurations.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
